PALL SESSION OF THE PRESBYTERY

ject of Organic Union-An Historical Sketch.

[Reported for the Dispatch.] The Presbytery of Roanoke held its fall session at Old Concord church, Appomattox county, Va., September let to 3d, with an attendance of the owing ministers and ruling elders— , Rev. Messrs. John H. Davis, D. D., F. N. Whaley, W. H. Matthews, R. C. Anderson, H. A. Brown, John A. Scott, J. A. McMurray, J. P. Gammon, John E. Wool, L. A. McLean, T. S. Wilson, and J. C. Dinwiddie; and Ruling-Elders R. T. Daniel, of Bethlessen urch ; George Hunt, of Buffalo J. K. Hannah, of Concord; John A. Shearer, of Old Concord; J. J. Wood, of New Concord; H. M. Callahan, of Diamond Hill; William G. Friend, of Drake's Branch; Dr. H. P. Lacy, of Village church; W. L. Williams, of Village church; W. L. Williams, of Hat Creek; A. C. Bruce, of Hermon; Robert S. Spencer, of Roanoke; John A. Andrews, of Rough Creek, and V. E. Howard, of Rustburg. We had also with us Rev. S. T. Martin, of Meck-lenburg Presbytery, agent of Union Theological Seminary, for the purpose of raising an endorsement for a lifth professorship in the Seminary. Rev. Mr. Royal, of the Appomattox Baptist Association, was also present the first doubt about his leaving this preseyday, and was invited to a seat in the Adiscussion, appointed by the Com-

Rev. J. P. Gammon was chosen moderator and showed great fitness for the position. Rev. John E. Wool and Kuling-Elder J. K. Hannah were made

Report was made of the organization of a new church by the name of Elon, near Scottsburg, with eighteen mem-bers, two ruling elders, and two dea-Leave was granted the congre gation to employ Rev. J. A. McMurray as their stated supply once a month. Mr. Robert C. Anderson, Jr., was as a candidate for the ministry. Rev. H. A. Brown and Ruling-Elder Dr. H. P. Lacy were chosen commis sioners to the next General Assembly with Rev. J. A. McMurray and Ruling Elder Henry Easley as their alternates.

The matter of the education of the five candidates for the ministry under care of the presbytery (all of whom will need aid in prosecuting their theologi-cal studies) elicited a lively discussion pose. as to the ways and means of securing the necessary contributions from the churches. It was Resolved, That $350 be apportioned among the churches of the presbytery, to be raised for this purpose; and that the pastors and sessions be urged, in view of the large number of our candidates, to make earnest effort to raise the full amount of the apportionment.

Rev. H. A. Brown, from the Historical Committee, read an historical sketch of the preabytery from its organization, in April, 1859. Several changes in boundary have occurred. It now em braces the counties of Charlotte, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Halifax, Pittsylvania, Henry, and Patrick, and about one half (more or less) of Franklin, Campbell, Appomattox, and Prince Edward. It has now 18 ministers and 35 churches and nearly 2,300 members, with the prospect of the organization immediately of 3 more churches. There is also within its bounds and under its care 1 colored church of nearly 200 members, with its colored pastor, Rev. Abel Davis. Since its organization the presbytery has licensed 17 persons to upon stated valuations: tween forty-five churches and their pastors. It has received nine licen-tiates and twenty-seven ministers from other presbyteries, and has dismissed nine licentiates and thirty-one ministers to other presbyteries. It has lost by death seven ministers—viz., Rev. Wil-liam Hamersly, Rev. Henderson Lee, Rev. John A. Moore, Rev. S. B. Wil-son, D. D., Rev. Robert N. Anderson, Rev. Isaac Cochran, and Rev. M. W. Jackson. Mr. Moore's death occurred but three years after he entered th ministry, but the other six lived to an age averaging about four-score years. Three of them were over eighty, averaging eighty-four years. The presby-tery has also lost two very promising licentiates—Mr. Isaac V. Scott and Mr. Samuel R. Booker. Both died a few months after their licensure, after having given proof of eminent qualifi-cations for usefulness. They were licensed on the same day.

The presbytery's Committee of Publication was instructed to take steps for the furtherance of the colportage work of the assembly's committee—for the wider circulation of the excellent religious literature issued by the Presby

It having been reported that a recent protracted meeting at Meadsville, a "mission" of the Oak-Level church, "mission" of the Oak-Level church, in charge of Rev. T. S. Wilson, had resulted in numerous conversions, and that a house of worship had been purchased and refitted, a committee was appointed, consisting of Rev. Messrs. J. H. Davis, J. A. McMurray, and T. S. Wilson, and Ruling-Elders Henry Easley and Thomas E. Barksdale, to organize a church at that point on the fourth Sunday of this month. It was resolved that, in the judgment of this presbytery, union with the Northern Presbyterian Church is both inexpedient and undesirable, and that the further agitation of the question will tend only to the disturbance of the peace and harmony of our beloved

The Committee on Missions was instructed to apportion among the churches of the presbytery the sum of 8800 as the proportionate amount fall-ing to this presbytery to raise at the next collection for sustentation.

It was ordered "that when any one

At the request of Rev. J. C. Din-widdie, made at the spring meeting and assented to at this meeting, though with great reluctance on the part of the con-gregations whom he has for five years been serving so acceptably, the pas-toral relation between himself and the churches of Old Concord, New Con-cord, and Concord was dissolved. Mr. Dinwiddie received permission to labor without the bounds of the presby-

Rev. T. S. Martin addressed the presbytery on the subject of the wants of the Theological Seminary, and October was appointed as the month for that thorough canvassing of all the congregations, ordered by the synod, to obtain contributions for this object as far as possible from all the people.

The weather was superb, the assemblies attending from day to day large, the order outside of the church most exemplary, the preaching (twice a day) of a high order to crowded and attentive andiences, and the music and singing excellent—Miss Dupwiddie and Miss Fisher presiding with great skill at the organ. The hospitality of the people was boundless and most hearty, deservedly calling for that cordial vote of thanks with which the presbytery closed its sessions. H. A. B. West Hanover Presbytery-Third

The recently issued supplement to the Presbyterial Manual was read and carefully corrected, so as to represent properly all the ministers and churches. The Committee on the Miantes of the General Assembly reported various items requiring the attention of the presbytery, upon which action was taken. The five amendments to the Eook of Church Order sent down to the presbyteries for their advice and consent were all agreed to. These amendments are intended to make all parts of the book harmonize with the position taken by the last General As-sembly—that ruling elders may be made moderators of all the church courts. Rev. Dr. Smith, of Union Seminary, vas appointed to collect historical mate rial for the Presbyterian centennial celebration to be held in Philadelphia next May, and to forward the same to the next assembly.

The commission appointed to organize a church at Lowesville, Amherst county, reported that nothing definite had yet been done, and it was continued

Rev. W. S. Wilson requested and received a dismission to Greenbrier Presbytery, as he had received a call to Richlands and Lacy churches, in West Virginia. There is, however, some doubt about his leaving this presby-

Fine Stock-Railroad Taxes.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) September 6, 1887. Mr. M. Erskine Miller, of this city, s president of the Virginia Jersey-Cattle Association, which, the Dispatch announces, is to hold an important meeting in Richmond on the 8th in-stant. The "Eastwood" herd of Jerseys which he has established on his farm, thus known, on the northeastern borders of Staunton, is perhaps the largest in the State. Mr. Miller is constantly improving it, too, from the best sources of supply regardless of cost and labor.
